Extra info

Salting pasta water:

We have developed the perfect blend of sauce mix including seasoning. For the best results all you need to do is heat the sauce & salt your pasta water as per the instructions.

One and a quarter litres of water is adequate for 1 portion of pasta with approx 3g of salt if you're cooking more than one portion at one time you need to add half litre water and 1g of table salt per portion

Preparation:

Once the pasta has been cooked and drained add the pasta straight into the hot sauce

Stirring or tossing:

Incorporating your pasta & sauce together by tossing or stirring it in the pan. Continue this for about 30 secs so the sauce will become slightly absorbed into the pasta, thicken and coat the pasta

Adjusting seasoning:

If you follow our instructions for salting your pasta water, minimal additional salt or pepper should be required for serving. We recommend plating your pasta & allowing a minute or two before tasting, this will allow the full flavour of the dish to come through and prevent over seasoning.
